Discussion of the provision, which was session by Mr. Daniel of Virginia, oc cupied the greater part of today's session and the report of the conferees was rejected because it was regarded by a large majority of the senate as too drastic, and, while no instructions could be given the conferees by the senate, it was understood that to secure favorable action by the senate a modified provision as to the penalty for hazing would have to be presented and agreed upon by the conferees. Early in the day Mr. Deboe of Kentucky delivered his announced speech upon the Nicaragua canal. He reviewed at

Tillman Calls It a Disgrace. Mr. Tillman interrupted to say that those cadets who practiced hazing upon their physical inferiors were "brutes and dogs" and he doubted whether the provision against hazing could go too far. "This school at West Point," he asserted, "has become a disgrace in the eyes of the world on account of hazing."

Mr. Teller said: "We have got to stop it or eventually dismantle the institution." Mr. Wolcott thought congress had entered upon a triffing business. The enactment of the provision would make of the cadets milksops and prigs. He related some personal experiences of hazing in his college days and remarked that some of the hazers won name and fame, while others went from bad to worse, some even landing finally in the senate of the United In conclusion he declared that for thirty-five years every West Point cadet had been hazed and in turn had become a hazer. Despite that the institution had developed a splendid lot of fighting material. Congress was not justified in treating the body of cadets like a lot of school children and in bringing them up as weak and enervated soldiers.
